Development reaches hurdle

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

It seems everyone at the Romulus Planning Commission meeting Monday night fixated on the same number: 900 square feet.

That's because it represents the minimum square footage needed to build a house and basement in the current zoning of the Meadowdale subdivision. Several residents pleaded with commission members to upgrade the zoning ordinance, especially the portion of vacant land planned for low-income housing by developer Byrne Benson.

The nine-member planning commission obliged their wishes by looking at several rezoning ideas, including increasing the minimum building requirements to as much as 1,200 square feet.

It's all in an effort to stop Benson's plan to build low-income houses, starting at $49,000.

What some residents fear is that their houses, many estimated in the neighborhood of $70,000 to $90,000, will decrease in value if the new homes are built, said Councilman William Wadsworth.

"What Benson is doing is wrong," Wadsworth said. "He's selling the residents out. He promised bigger houses when he bought the land and he's planning smaller houses. He's misled the people."

Benson's plan to build at least 12 low-income homes for people who meet qualifications for Michigan State Housing Authority loans has been met with resistance since its announcement in late June.

Wadsworth said the planning commission will again study the zoning ordinance at its next meeting in August. He promised to continue to make Benson's plan just that — a plan.

"We will make it very difficult for Mr. Benson to build low-income housing," Wadsworth said. "This is an outrage. If this was Farmington, (Benson) wouldn't try something like this."

While Wadsworth and others study measures to alter existing ordinances, Mayor Beverly McAnally believes Benson is well within his rights to build houses in the 900 square foot range.

"I don't know exact numbers, but a good many houses in that subdivision are 900 square feet or less," she said. "It's discrimination to go against people who need affordable houses. I don't want a whole community of 900-square-foot houses, but the idea of a good housing mix should be ideal for every community to strive for."

McAnally added many of the subdivision residents have not voiced their opinions. So she has called a meeting at the Halecreek school Aug. 8 to inform all the subdivision residents of what is happening with Benson's development plans.

Parents discuss advantages of computers in the classroom

By MARY SHIRODA

Face it, computers are here to stay. That was the message given to Romulus parents July 11 in two separate meetings at Barth Elementary School. John Childs, a representative from Educational Technology Consultants Southfield, spoke on the benefits of using computer technology to educate children. He also gave parents an opportunity to see how computer-related tools are being used in many of today's schools.

"When our kids graduate from high school they have to deal with a lot of things we didn't," Childs said, adding that technology exists today that can greatly enhance children's education.

Computer and video technology provide a way to "bring the outside world into the school so students learn about what's going on in the outside world while they're in the classroom," he said.

Childs presented a video which featured Integrated Learning System, a successful program adopted by the Forest Hills Public School system in Grand Rapids.

It illustrated how the United States has changed from a strictly industrial nation to a society that is "information-driven." Childs said students today are expected to know how to find, process and use information in problem-solving.

"By the end of the 1990s, half of the jobs will be information-related," he said, citing recent studies in career trends.

Computers and video equipment help "learners achieve more in a shorter amount of time," Childs said. "The teacher is freed up to give individual help to students that she normally wouldn't have time for."

The Romulus Board of Education hopes to include a technology-related learning program into the Romulus school system.

"More than 50 percent of the Romulus staff were in favor of computers," said Arthur McPharlin, principal of Halecreek Elementary School in Romulus.

"School districts across Michigan spend from 1 to 7 percent of their operating budget on technology-related tools," he said. "Parents, teachers and the school board have to decide what they want."

McPharlin added that parents who attended the meetings were "very receptive" to the idea of bringing new technology into the Romulus Schools.

Museum group seeks donations

A small one-room schoolhouse, currently being renovated, will be the future Romulus Museum. Built in 1839, four years after Romulus was founded, the schoolhouse was moved from its original location to the historical park next to the post office.

Though the major restoration is nearing completion, the Romulus Historical Society is still seeking donations that will be used to purchase display cases.

Any individual or group who donates $550, the cost of one case, will have their name engraved on a plaque on the case. At least three more display cases are needed.

"Romulus has never had a museum and it's over 155 years old," said Pearl Varner, of the Romulus Historical Society. Society members have been collecting memorabilia for the past 10 years. Pre-1900 clothing, old photographs, historical documents and books will be among the items on display when the museum is ready to open.

"Hopefully we'll be close to opening next summer," Varner said.

A non-profit organization, the Romulus Historical Society is supported by donations, state grants and the individuals who volunteer their time. Varner said they are especially grateful to Frank Smythe, a certified public accountant from the office of Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel in Wayne, for "a job well done."

Each year Smythe files annual state and federal tax returns for the historical society at "no charge," Varner said.

In the future, the historical society members would like to build a gazebo near the museum and also construct an area for activities based on a historical theme.

Individuals interested in donating a one-time gift of $550 for display cases should call 697-9628.

Gun game a hoax, man confesses

A 28-year-old Westland man is facing second-degree murder charges in the July 3 shooting death of a woman in a Van Buren Township trailer park.

Michael McGee, 28, was arraigned last Wednesday in 34th District Court and a cash bond of $500,000 was set. McGee is being held in Wayne County Jail pending a preliminary examination.

Lisa Gayle Pierce, 34, of Westland, was reported to have been fatally shot while she and her male companion were playing Russian roulette with a handgun. The couple had been residing in a mobile home owned by a Van Buren Township man for approximately one month.

The suspect first told Van Buren Township police that he had taken a turn spinning a single round in the chamber of the .38-caliber handgun, which belongs to the trailer owner, and fired it. Then, he told police, Mrs. Pierce placed the handgun in her mouth, fired and was fatally wounded.

In his first statement to police, McGee told the officers that he removed the gun from the victim's hand and put it away before leaving the mobile home. He returned one hour later with the trailer owner and, at that time, a report was made to the police.

Later, in a voluntary statement made to detectives, the suspect said he had put the barrel of the handgun into the victim's mouth and pulled the trigger. A polygraph test had been scheduled for McGee on the day after his second statement to police, but it was cancelled because McGee had not eaten or slept since the previous night. Detectives believed results of a polygraph at that time could have been questioned in court due to his physical condition.

The couple had been drinking, but there was no indication of drug use, according to police. Blood samples were taken from the victim for testing.

Mrs. Pierce, who was the mother of three children, is the daughter of Norma and Donald Richards. The Richards are Westland residents who are moving to Florida.

10 animal shelter workers resign

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Michigan Humane Society officials are only speculating why 10 employees from the Westland shelter clinic decided to resign from their positions Friday.

"I can't honestly answer that," said Gary Tiscornia, the executive director of the Michigan Humane Society.

One reason 10 of the 17 clinic employees might have resigned, Tiscornia said, could be the "at will" policy recently adopted. The policy allows the employer to retain the right to terminate an employee with or without cause, and the employee retains the same rights. This policy is used by approximately 90 percent of the businesses in Michigan, according to Tiscornia.

"It's pretty ordinary manilla stuff," he said.

Those submitting resignations include: four veterinarians, a receptionist, one assistant and four lab technicians.

None of the remaining seven shelters have experienced any resignations due to the new policy, according to Tiscornia.

Tiscornia reportedly issued a new employees' manual in May. At the same time, employees were told to sign a form agreeing to the new policy.

The policy states that when employees cash their paychecks, they also are accepting the policy.

The policy, Tiscornia said, has been used by the humane society since 1984. Therefore, he believes there may be some other reason behind the mass resignation.

A lack of charity support from the shelter may be one of the causes, Tiscornia said.

"We had just started to look into allegations pursuing failure to support charity," he said.

Although he isn't sure if the allegations had been men-

"We're handling everything though. We're not sending anyone away."

tioned to any of the Westland employees, Tiscornia said administrators had received calls from individuals wondering why the center wasn't doing more to collect money.

As it stands now, the Westland clinic is down to two veterinarians, and on Monday Tiscornia's administrative assistant was working in the clinic to try and ease the load.

"We're handling everything though. We're not sending anyone away. Any real emergencies are being seen right away, and those that can wait we're sending to our other clinics," Tiscornia said.

Until new staff can be hired, Tiscornia said appointments will be cut back.

"We can operate like this, although it is tough," he said.

Next month the Westland shelter employees are expected to vote on a Teamsters Union organizing petition.

To make an appointment, phone 941-1400.

Physicals cost $12, not including laboratory fees. Medicaid, Blue Cross and private insurances are accepted.

For any adolescent younger than 18, a signed parent consent form is required.

Appointments are made

Romulus Community Schools officials announced the following administrative changes for the 1990-91 school year.

Mrs. Mossoian has been retained as the principal of Halecreek Elementary School. She has been the acting principal since March when Arthur McPharlin was reassigned to head a special grant project to restructure the schools.

Phyllis Adkins was named interim principal at Cory Elementary School, replacing Peter Silveri, who resigned to accept a similar position in Ann Arbor.

Harold Connon was transferred from Community High School, an alternative high school, to Barth Elementary School, where he is to take over as principal.

Charles Shamey, the former principal at Barth Elementary School, has been transferred to Wick Elementary School to replace Nick Tottis, who retired after 39 years in education.

Scouts learn safety guidelines

Boy Scouts from Troop 1739 sat at a picnic table Monday in the back yard of Bill and Kathryn Hall listening intently to Officer John Smagner of the Romulus Police Department.

Smagner, who has been speaking publicly about crime prevention to PTA, business, or service groups for the past two years, said children are "very receptive" to the lectures.

He is one of two Drug Awareness and Rehabilitation officers in the Romulus Police Department.

"Who's going to sell you drugs?" he asked the boy scouts. "People you normally would trust... your peers and friends. They're not good friends then, are they? Are you going to hang around with them?" The scouts unanimously shook their heads "no."

Smagner said people who don't feel good about themselves, or who don't have good self-esteem, turn to drugs to get an artificial high. He told the scout troop that the best kind of high is a "natural" high that happens when you've done something you're really proud of or when you've done something good for someone else.

In addition to warning about the dangers of drugs, he cautioned the scouts to be wary of strangers whenever they are alone.

He stressed they should never tell people calling on the phone that their parents aren't home.

"Say, they can't come to the phone," he said. "Then ask if there's a message."

He also told the boys to ignore the people who stop on the street to ask for directions. You can never be sure of their intentions, he said.

"What are you going to do when you're home alone and a stranger is pounding on your front door?" he asked the scouts.

"Call 911," responded the eight boys wearing khaki and red uniforms.

Smagner makes himself available to speak to groups and organizations such as the Boy Scouts. For more information, phone the police department.

Auto insurance debate ongoing in Lansing

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Legislators in Lansing have been taking a hard look at the current no-fault insurance laws, and are considering some changes. If the changes become law, and a rollback of premiums becomes mandatory, the insurance industry will be in an uproar, experts say.

"Michigan's no-fault insurance system works. It is a success - so much that it is considered the model no-fault law in the United States," said Charles Trubac, regional vice-president of State Farm Insurance Company.

In a report, Sen. Dick Posthumus writes that members of the Michigan Senate Commerce and Technology Committee have examined testimony from nationally recognized experts in economics of insurance, health care costs, anti-trust, tort law and no-fault insurance systems.

The conclusion is that Michigan has "the best no-fault auto-insurance in America," but the system could still stand some improvements.

"This does not mean that the current no-fault system can't be improved - it can," Posthumus said.

After six weeks of hearings the committee has come to the conclusion that the following could be implemented to improve the current no-fault system. The industry of no-fault insurance in this state is a highly competitive business and the industry does not receive high profits, he said.

The report mentions that the recent cost increases are legitimate reasons for concern, but that many factors contribute to the high costs, such as tort litigation, health care costs, and collision and comprehensive costs.

Michigan, according to the committee report, pays one of the greatest percentages of premium dollars to injured victims, compared to other states.

The system also provides unlimited no-fault medical benefits, which, according to the committee members, is often taken advantage of.

The committee reports that a study should be conducted to see if car repairs and replacement parts can be reduced.

One area the report mentions to help reduce costs is to make the current laws more stringent.

"The law can do more to deter reckless and irresponsible driving and encourage the purchase of safe cars and safety devices," the report states.

Rolling back premiums would not be a practical solution, according to this report.

Finally the report mentions that the no-fault system in Michigan needs to become more responsive to the needs of drivers.

On Thursday, August 9, there will be a watermelon-eating contest, pony pull, children's entertainment and Robinson's Racing Pigs.

Friday, August 10, brings to town the NTPA Truck Pull, also on this date there will be a Cruise Night, the Sea Cruise Band, a Las Vegas Room, Robinson's Racing Pigs and 4 x 4 Truck Pull.

The Wayne County Fair goes out with a bang Saturday, August 11, as events include a fun run, Las Vegas Room, Robinson's Racing Pigs, an open horse show, a 4 x 4 truck show, a pet show, Tracy Lynne & Mountain Express, an open rabbit show and the Monster Truck Car Crushing Competition which includes two shows and will feature Bigfoot, Heartbeat, Excalibur, and the Capital City Monster.

1 killed, 4 injured in car crash

Canton Township firefighters and police officers assisted Van Buren Township firefighters in extricating a family of five from their overturned van early Monday morning.

The public safety workers toiled for 45 minutes to extricate the family from the overturned vehicle which had toppled onto Interstate 275 from eastbound Van Born Road.

Gloria Davis, 46, of Southfield, was pronounced dead at the scene by University of Michigan Survival Flight doctors. Her husband, William, 47, was listed in serious condition, and their three children, Kaylin, 16; Kevin, 13, and Kyle, 9, were transported to St. Joseph Hospital for treatment.

At 5:32 a.m. July 13, Van Buren Township police received several reports that a vehicle had flipped over and had landed on its top, trapping injured passengers inside.

Capt. Gregory Laurain said the accident is still under investigation. A preliminary investigation indicated that no alcohol or drugs were involved in the accident, and the vehicle did not appear to have a mechanical problem which would have caused the crash.

Primary election nears as candidates set stage

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Get ready, set, vote. Come Aug. 7, voters will flock to the polls to decide the candidates and issues that will make up the November ballot. All of the state Senate and state House of Representative seats expire this January. Locally, the state Senate districts affected include: the sixth, which covers Canton; the 12th, which covers Wayne, Westland, Romulus and Belleville; and the 10th, which covers Inkster.

Democrats Frank Guido and Mark Koldys, both Dearborn residents, are seeking a spot on the state Senate in the 10th district. The winner will face the lone republican candidate, George Hart, also of Dearborn, in November.

Candidates who will appear on the ballot for the state House of Representative republican seats include Plymouth residents Gerald Law, who is the 36th district incumbent, and Kathleen McCarthy-Keen.

In the 37th district democratic race, Canton incumbent James Kosteva will face Romulus resident Robert Bell.

In the 38th district, Westland incumbent Justine Barns will run against Westland resident David Hayter in the democratic race.

In the race for county commissioner, Canton resident Linda Chahram will face Victor Gustafson, also of Canton. Both are republicans. The winner will face democratic incumbent Milt Mack.

In the 12th district, incumbent Kay Beard of Inkster will be challenged by fellow democrats Hilliard Hampton, of Inkster, Terri Reighard-Johnson, of Westland, and Deborah Miller, of Garden City. The winner will face republican candidate Gerald Cox in November.

Voters in Wayne County will also choose one of six candidates for probate judge.

Those seeking the position include: Patricia B. Campbell, Robert K. Costello, Sean Patrick Kavanagh, William Leo Cahalan, Carolyn Blanchard and Peter Beck.

In the 15th Congressional District, voters will decide on one of two republican candidates to challenge democratic incumbent William D. Ford. They are: Ypsilanti resident Burl Adkins and Westland resident of Glen Kassel.

A stately visit

Funding gathered for family center

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

In many communities, the homeless are the forgotten people. Not in Westland.

Thanks to donations from 32 Wayne County communities, the Family Center, a new concept in homeless housing, will open its doors this fall.

The facility is the result of months of planning by many agencies, churches, local municipalities and other groups.

"Everybody on the advisory council is getting excited about getting some of the homeless off the streets this winter," said Joe Benyo, a member of the Family Center advisory committee. A sneak preview inside the center shows construction wellunderway. The inside of the building has been gutted and contractors have begun to give the building the "homey look" of comfortable living they want for those who will live in it.

"Maybe it will give them an hour or so each night of humor."
— Joe Benyo
Committee member

The following is a list of communities that have set aside funds for the center and the amounts each contributed: Livonia, $17,550; Westland, $24,300; Dearborn Heights, $20,250; Redford Township, $17,550; Taylor, $17,550; and Lincoln Park, $10,000.

Each contribution came from the community's block grant fund. This is money allotted to a municipality from the federal government.

Dearborn also contributed $48,000, but the money came out of Dearborn's emergency shelter fund.

An additional $85,000 has been contributed to the center the remaining cities in Wayne County except for Highland Park, Hamtramck, Inkster and Detroit.

The communities that made up the $85,000 received the money as subrecipients of community block grants.

The group is in the process of reviewing applications for manager of the center.

Just last week, members of the UAW kicked off a campaign to raise money and needed items for the center by presenting a $500 check.

In preparation of the opening, the advisory committee has compiled a wish list of items that will be needed. A partial listing includes: office supplies, toilet tissue, tissue paper, diapers, toiletries, rugs, televisions, kitchen supplies.

A Westland resident recently donated a player piano to the center.

"Maybe it will give them an hour or so each night of humor," Benyo said.

State grant may save natural habitat

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Perhaps their motto should be "Save the scarlet tanagers." Or "Keep the Cooper's Hawks." Whatever the name, one thing is for sure: members of the Holiday Park Preservation Committee, the Southeast Michigan Lands Conservancy and officials from Wayne County are concerned about preserving the natural breeding ground for many endangered species at the Holiday Park in Westland.

So much so they have applied for a state grant to help preserve the park, which is also home to foxes, broadwing hawks, warblers, vireos and orioles.

"We're trying to devise some

It is equally important to preserve these areas where animals that come from the rainforest have set up habitats.

— Jack Smiley
President of Southeast Michigan Lands Conservancy

plans to save some habitats for these animals," says Jack Smiley, president of the Southeast Michigan Lands Conservancy.

In the past, much of the effort by Smiley's group and the preservation committee has been concentrated in cleaning up the Rouge River. Smiley believes the way the cleanup has been handled might not be the best method.

He suggests more cleanup efforts take place along the tributaries and wetlands that feed into the Rouge River.

"By preserving the tributaries and wetlands that feed the river, we can eliminate much of the debris and waste that ends up in the river," he says.

"It's a much more cost-effective way to clean up the Rouge."

One tributary that runs through the Holliday Park nature preserve is Deer Creek.

"It is equally important to preserve these areas where animals that come from the rainforest have set up habitats," Smiley says.

He adds that his members are hoping to raise $20,000 to fund the preservation effort.

One campaign the groups are organizing is called the "Save the Fox Campaign." "We're trying to get people to donate to help save the habitat," Smiley says.

The donation is tax deductible and can be sent to the Southeast Michigan Lands Conservancy, 6410 St. Mary's, Detroit, 48228.

Park tours are planned starting at the Koppernick Road entrance to the preserve on Aug.

25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

On Sept. 15, a spider tour will take place. Anyone interested in the tour should show up at the Koppernick Road entrance at 10 a.m.

County has budget surplus

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne County officials have not only balanced the county books for the second consecutive time in more than 14 years, but they have also ended the year with a budget surplus of $375,278, according to Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

As a result of the budget surplus and rating for the county has been improved to a BAA investment grade rating by Moody's, something the county has not seen in 15 years.

"This means the county will save money on future construction projects such as airport improvements and a new county morgue," said Irma Clark, Wayne County spokeswoman.

According to Wayne County Deputy Chief Michael Duggan, the county taxpayers will save $10 million during the next 10 years.

"Through a series of cost-cutting measures in such areas as a restructured indigent health care program and mental health, we have managed to get the county in the black ink once again," McNamara said.

The county indigent health care program, which provides care for 54,000 residents of the county, now provides preventative health care. This helped to reduce the average number of hospital stays and hospital admissions from 1988 to 1989.

Clark credits the county with encouraging health-care providers to use preventative measures such as classes and education to stem in-patient hospital stays.

The county now uses a case management or HMO program, which has been crucial in controlling costs, said assistant county executive of health and community services Veronica Davis-Anthony, plus this system gives indigent citizens better access to health care than they received previously.

Although out-patient services and preventative medicine are emphasized, the county will hospitalize a patient if necessary, Davis-Anthony said.

The audit last year for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1988, showed an operating surplus of $433,000. McNamara credited county officials and department directors for acting responsibly by operating within their budgets and in particular to county treasurer Raymond J. Wojtowicz for his cooperation in improving cash management.

"Ed McNamara has shown great leadership and responsibility for an improved financial picture, especially since he inherited a $135 million deficit, that he eliminated," Clark said.

Wildlife scores win in development game

The margin narrowed ever so slightly recently in the contest between development and the preservation of wildlife habitats.

The contest waged between the two forces has been a tragic one with the environment often losing out to the financial rewards of development — both commercial and residential.

Just this week, however, it seems some battles have been won for the environment.

An area bordering the William Holliday Nature Preserve in Westland was protected from possible development, when city councilmembers voted against a rezoning of the property.

This particular site is known to be a habitat for foxes, who would be displaced should development move in.

In addition, the state is considering a grant to allow a local land conservancy group to purchase the property, maintaining it as a natural environment for all time.

The Holliday Nature Preserve has been saved before. Plans once called for a golf course to be constructed there, but a group of active environmentalists stood their ground and the plan never reached "go".

We applaud the efforts of organizations which take upon themselves the task of protecting the flora and fauna of the area. Nature is here for all of us to enjoy, not to destroy.

We also applaud Westland City Council for taking a stand, and not being lured by a lucrative development.

Also noted here is the city of Wayne and the Ford Motor Company who have reached an agreement for the mitigation of wetlands destroyed as a result of Ford expansion.

They will recreate a wetlands area, and thus provide a new, natural environment for wildlife.

Development is a necessary evil, providing cities and school systems with the financial means to keep their operations going. They bring people to the community, as well as tax dollars.

There is no charm, however, in a city without trees and open spaces. Without birds, squirrels, rabbits, wildflowers and other forms of life, our lives would be drab.

A real race for a change

It has been a long time since voters in Wayne County have witnessed competition for positions on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

County races are usually dry and boring with few choices for the voters.

All of this has changed this time around. Finally, there will be a choice for voters.

The primary Aug. 7 will present voters with several choices on the Democratic ticket in this area.

This is a rarity in western Wayne County, and a welcome change.

It is good news once again to see people interested in seeking public office. It is sometimes a thankless job, and yet the right person in the post can make such a difference in the community.

We applaud those who took the plunge, and set out to serve their neighbors on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Watch next week for endorsements.

Top choice for schools

We wish to commend to Van Buren School Board on their choice of James Richendollar as superintendent of schools. Actions don't demand recall

I'm a lifelong resident of Wayne and have always been active in local church, school and community activities.

I've been very concerned in recent weeks over the allegations made by the Wayne Charter Committee, a group of local citizens who've made innuendos as to improper procedures that have supposedly taken place in the past by our Wayne city administration, our mayor, and our city councilmembers.

This group is passing around recall petitions for our city councilmembers. I don't believe they've done anything that calls for such action. This is a real embarrassment for our city! I know most of these people and I can't believe they'd be dishonest in carrying out their duties.

I've talked with a member of this group and didn't feel I got enough substantial information to convince me what they're doing is appropriate. Our conversation was short, I guess because he really didn't have enough to tell me about their actions.

In contrast, I talked at great length with two people from city hall as well as some city councilmembers, who spent considerable time with me explaining things.

I am in disagreement with the Wayne Charter Committee and would urge all honest residents who care about their community not to sign a recall petition. And if you feel unsure about what's going on I would encourage you to talk to the people involved, as I've done. And definitely read the June 28 Wayne Eagle — the interview of Mayor Norton by staff reporters.

Thanks for the help

On behalf of the Belleville Area Strawberry Festival, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people that helped to make the 1990 Belleville Area Strawberry Festival the best ever. It is the spirit of cooperation that many local residents, business people and community organizations portrayed that make our festival unique and special to our community.

I would also like to thank all of those people that helped to organize our first concert on the new stage at Van Buren park. We could not control the weather, but that should not diminish the tremendous amount of work that went into the planning of the concert and the many people who gave so freely of their time, money and support to help make it a success.

First of all, I would personally like to thank Patricia Birbeck, president of the Strawberry Festival, for her continued support and hard work. Pat is always the first to give of herself and her time to make things work and she never asks for anything in return. The board would like to thank Gale Ihlenfeldt for all the time she spent in preparation of the concert and her work with the Battle of the Bands, t-shirt contests and poster contest.

We also thank the following: City of Belleville and the Township of Van Buren, their police officers, fire fighters, DPW workers, park workers and all their employees; Davenport Brothers for their great job in the construction of the stage; Supervisor David Jacques, Mayor Glenn Silvenis, Terry and Carol Bird, Deborah Marshall, Brian and Ann Loranger, Tony Fabrizio, Roy Acho, Barbara LaLonde, David Fields, Robert Herron, Bud Crews, Hazel Bigham, Paul Nerswick, Janet Millard, Diane Ferguson, Steve Sand, Cathy Skelton, Mark and Deanna Kuzel, Paul Ihlenfeldt, Mike Gentz, Karla Clark, Gene Moss, Greg Snider, Sam Villa and his boys, Lakeview Printing and Liggett Printing, George and Loretta Speaks, the Belleville Enterprise, the Ann Arbor News and the Ypsilanti Press and all the countless number of volunteers too numerous to mention.

Students' future is matter of concern

Like the majority of parents in the Wayne-Westland school district, I am very concerned for the future of my son and all the other students in this school district.

I feel the millage was defeated because the majority of voters feel, whether justified or not, that there is definitely too much waste and that there are too many highly paid administrators.

I also feel that instead of having students marching, much more publicity should have been given to the fact that our homes will surely depreciate in value. Who wants to move into an area with poor schools? Also, more attention should have been given to the senior citizens, making them aware of the fact that most of the increase in taxes would be refunded to them

Athlete wheels himself to victory

By JEFF HAWKINS
ANP Staff Writer

For any true sportsman, winning is everything. No matter how well he did in previous junctures of the competition, the true sportsman can't get enough of winning. It's just addictive.

And for Alan Armitage, a Belleville athlete who competed in the 10th National Veterans Wheelchair Games, winning is just that - everything.

Armitage, a veteran of the Ann Arbor VA Wheelchair Team, recently returned home from the games, comprised of athletes who require the use of wheelchairs for mobility due to spinal cord injury, neurological diseases or amputations, in New Orleans with one silver, in the shotput, and two bronze medals, in the javelin and bowling.

But the accomplishment of winning those medals didn't overshadow the fact that he failed to win the billiards competition. It was one medal that got away from Armitage and, as the true sportsman that he is, wishes that it hadn't.

"I feel that I did really good in the competition," Armitage said. "But I almost won a gold in pool. I had it. I should have won."

But despite that one unfortunate turn of events he faced during the games, Armitage turned in, yet, another successful performance.

"I am proud of the accomplishment," Armitage said. "I have a whole drawer full of medals, I will just add them to my collection."

Of the 540 veterans who competed in the games from all over the United States, Armitage was voted the "Most Improved" athlete for 1990.

"He was well deserving of that award," said Dan Hendee, Chief of Recreational Services for the Ann Arbor VA Medical Center. "His accomplishment was certainly noteworthy. He has dedi-

Bombed New Boston routs Salem, 17-4

By JEFF HAWKINS
ANP Staff Writer

New Boston Huron may have struggled during the recent high school baseball season, but the Chiefs are looking good in the Mickey Mantle League.

Just ask Plymouth Salem. New Boston bombed Salem 17-4 last week, serving notice that they are a power to be reckoned with in the sandlot league.

"I just want you to play," said Dale Rumberger, head coach of the Plymouth-Salem summer baseball team during the first inning of a Mickey Mantle League game against New Boston Huron where his team committed four first-inning errors en route to a 17-4 debacle at the hands of the rival Chiefs.

"We just didn't play good defense," Rumberger said of his 10-4 squad. "We are a decent team but from the beginning when the player fielded the grounder and threw the ball over our first baseman's head, it set the tone for the day."

"It was just one of those things." And it went from bad to worse. With the help of the four errors in the first, Huron shot out to an 8-0 lead before the Rocks even had a chance to bat.

"It's an understatement to say we gave away the game," Rumberger said.

Huron's Larry Ratcliffe scored the first of what turned into a frenzy of Chief runs when he scored on a ball hit by teammate Jeff Jones. Jones quickly followed Ratcliffe home on a passed ball by Rock pitcher Tom Davey.

And that was just the start of an inning that one Salem fan described as "endless". "We just aren't helping ourselves much," the fan said.

The Chiefs made the score 6-0 after Rich Williams and Dan Moore hit RBI singles to center. After the Chiefs batted around the order - while making only one out - they extended their lead to 8-0 on another Rock error and on Jeff Baker's slow roller back to the mound that Davey failed to handle cleanly, allowing a run to score.

Rumberger, seeing a situation that didn't appear to be getting any better, replaced his inexperienced starting pitcher with Kurt Singleton. The new pitcher came in and threw the Chiefs a steady supply of breaking balls and fastballs that I am not too concerned with the game. I just want the team to play.

- Dale Rumberger
Salem coach

momentarily threw them off balance and out of the inning - with an eight-run bulge.

In baseball when things are going good they usually get better and when they are going bad, well, they get worse. And from the position Salem was standing, they just couldn't conceive things getting anymore aggravating. The tide was sure to turn. Right. Wrong!

Jeff Belisle hit a rocket to right field. After getting a good jump on the ball Chief right fielder Chris Benson camped under the liner waiting to glove the fly ball. But when the wind caught hold of the ball, it changed its direction toward the foul line in right. Benson tried to change his direction and stumbled on something in the outfield.

Thinking the ball was sure to drop in for a hit, Belisle rounded first base and headed for second. It was then, from his prone position in right, Benson gloved the liner and sent Belisle back to the bench wondering what could possibly happen to this team next.

"That first inning was terrible," Rumberger said. "But those things happen sometimes."

The Chiefs scored two more runs in the second when Moore connected on his second RBI single in as many innings and Ratcliffe brought his teammate home on a single down the line in left.

By the fourth inning, the Rocks had cut the Chiefs lead down to 10-4 on RBIs by Davey, Dan Hutchinson and a couple run scoring passed balls by Huron's hurler Jason Marteney.

And from then on, the Chiefs just continued to pour salt on the Rocks wounds with a run in the top of the fifth inning and six more in the sixth.

"I'm not really concerned with the game," Rumberger said. "It's not like we are getting knocked around like this every night. It was really rare. In fact this is the first time anyone has scored in double-figures on us all season."

"The players don't try to make mistakes. It just happens!"

Flat Rock Speedway Local drivers rev up for feature races

Area drivers fared well last week at the Flat Rock Speedway.

Robbie Loving of Romulus placed third and Sonny Hall of Belleville was fifth in the Enduro 250-lap race.

The night, however, belonged to Al Lane. Lane, who has driven in every Flat Rock Speedway Enduro 250 since the first one in 1984, came up Sunday with his first-ever victory.

Lane, however, had been close on previous attempts. He finished in the top five on several occasions in the past. He drove to a comfortable margin of victory in the race for junkyard-bound street cars.

David Decker crossed the finish line a distant second, followed by Loving, Mark Sequin of Ontario, and Hall.

The next event at Flat Rock is scheduled for Saturday, July 21, with the next Enduro 250 race ready to go at 2 p.m. on Sunday, August 26.

In the meantime, Mark "The Turtle" Johnson ended a two-year drought at Flat Rock Speedway Saturday evening as he powered his way to victory in the 30-lap ARCA/Jomar Racing Products Late Model feature.

Morning rains and overcast skies kept the crowd down on a fall-like night at the quarter-mile oval race track.

Johnson, behind the wheel of Glenn Cappella's Camaro, kept his Jomar-powered machine out front for the entire distance of the event.

Rick Sheppard of New Boston continued his strong showing by staying right with Johnson much of the race. Sheppard tried the low side of the track on the final lap but settled for second spot.

Steve Bunge rode home third, Terry Cook was fourth and Joe Hawes took fifth.

Time trials at Flat Rock begin at 5:30 p.m., while racing is at 7:30 p.m. The track is located one mile south of Flat Rock on Telegraph Road, between I-75 and I-275.

New Boston Huron's Eric Guntow dives to avoid the tag by Salem first baseman Tom Davey. Guntow and the Chiefs routed their Mickey Mantle rivals, 17-4, last week.

1990 golf tournament Fellows Creek is host for 31st summer classic

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Who will be the 1990 City Championship Golf Invitational champion?

That question will be answered the weekend of August 11-12 at Fellows Creek Golf Course, the stage for the annual summer classic. Fellows Creek is located at 2936 Lotz Road, just east of the I-275 Expressway, north of Michigan Avenue.

Canton Township's Matt Wiley, who shot a 138 for the 36-hole tournament a year ago to stop Kevin Ryan's bid for three straight titles, is the defending champ.

Canton has always put together a strong delegation in the tournament that also determines the city titles for the cities of Westland, Wayne, Inkster, and Romulus.

The tournament, which originated in 1960 - the first champ was Tom Wilnot of Westland - has been one of the more popular men's amateur invitational in western Wayne County, according to tournament manager William Hawley.

"We have had up to 140 golfers compete in this tournament in the past, and we expect at least 100 for this year's competitions," Hawley said. "We are urging competitors to sign up as soon as they can."

There is a 5 p.m. Friday, August 3 deadline to register for the championships.

To enter, golfers should fill the entry blank accompanying the story. There is a $40 registration fee that covers the costs for the two-day, 36-hole tournament and the trophies.

Separate city championships will be conducted simultaneously for amateur male golfers working and residing in participating communities. Additional flight competitions will be staged for each city only if the total entry from the city warrants it.

Competitors will be playing for trophies, which will be awarded to the first- second- and third-place finishers. An additional trophy will be awarded to the individual low scorer of the entire field (medalist).

In case of a tie for a trophy, golfers will play a "sudden death" playoff until a winner is determined.

Wayne golfers will also be playing for the Leonard J. Anderson Traveling Trophy. The trophy honors the memory of Patrolman Anderson, the first Wayne police officer to be slain in action. The award will be presented by a representative of the Wayne Police Department.

Golfers also will be competing for one of five berths on their city teams. The teams will advance to the state parks and recreation finals. Only bona fide residents are eligible to play on their city teams.

Entries will be accepted at The Associated Newspapers offices, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne or by mail. Please make checks payable to Bill Hawley.

For further information, please contact staff writers Tom Mooradian or Jeff Hawkins at 729-4000 during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

THE 31st CITY GOLF TOURNAMENT WILL BE STAGED AT FELLOWS CREEK GOLF COURSE ON AUGUST 11 AND 12.

The Tournament is the qualifier for the Michigan Parks and Recreation State Tournament September 24th.

Everyone will be placed into flights according to ability.

The Entry Fee is $40.00 which includes 2- 18 hole rounds of golf on the weekend, and trophies and prizes.

Romulus golfer
advances to state

A Romulus golfer was among junior linksmen who qualified last week for the state finals after surviving local competition.

Todd Rakotz qualified for the state tournament by placing in the state Insurance Youth Golf Classic staged recently at Braeburn Golf Club in Plymouth.

Rakotz will join area golfers Shawn Koch of Northville, Chris Lemmon, also of Northville, and Joe Sullivan of Farmington Hills, at the state finals at Forest Akers Golf Course in East Lansing where some 80 young golfers will compete for the state championship and the right to advance to the national championships.

More than 700 Michigan youngsters entered 21 local tournaments around the state, according to state IYGC chairman Tom Bingham of Goddard-Talmay Agency in Walpole Lake.

Nationally, about 10,000 teens play in 800 local and state tournaments organized by independent insurance agents as a community service, Bingham said.

Winners of the state finals will have the chance to be paired with a PGA touring professional during the IYGC finals which will be conducted August 9-14 in Fort Worth, Texas.

Weekend action
Teams vie for major softball tournament titles

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Some of the best men's softball talent in the state will invade the cities of Inkster and Wayne over the weekend in search of invitational championships.

Inkster will play host to the Johnnie A. Sims Memorial Tournament, which will get underway on July 20.

The double-elimination, American Softball Association-sanctioned, competition will be staged on various diamonds in the city.

The tournament is a posthumous tribute to Johnnie A. Sims, former Inkster High baseball star who was killed in a street brawl five years ago.

Sims made it into the semi-pro baseball ranks before a knee injury ended his professional career. He later played and coached local baseball and softball teams in Inkster and the area.

In the meantime, Wayne is preparing to host the 14th annual Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Invitational, which also will be staged three days beginning Friday.

action in the city of Wayne. He was responding to a domestic quarrel when a man opened fire on him from behind a closed door in a house. Anderson suffered fatal gunshot wounds.

Larry Quartuccio, tournament director, said that a field of about 15 teams, including the three-time title winner, Schaefer Office Products (Dearborn), have gathered for the tournament.

Schaefer won tournament titles in 1983 and back-to-back championships in 1988-1989.

12th annual meet
100 to seek Inkster open tennis championship

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

If you're planning to be around town next month and are looking for some tennis action, the city of Inkster has a tournament designed with players like you in mind.

Recreation officials announced last week that they are seeking players for their 12th annual open tennis tournament. Competition will be staged on resurfaced tennis courts at the recreation complex.

The dates for the tournament are August 17, 18 and 19.

Last year, the tournament was cancelled because of the courts were in dire need of repairs. However, in 1988 more than 100 tennis enthusiasts competed in the amateur championships.

"We expect an outstanding field of competitors this year," said Ron Wolkowicz, recreation director. "Over the years this (tournament) has gained in popularity."

Opened to city as well as area netters, players will compete for titles in various age-group divisions. The breakdown is as follows: 35 & Over singles and doubles; adult men's singles; adult women's singles; adult mixed doubles and men's and women's doubles.

In the junior division, the brackets have been set up as follows: 14 and under, singles; 17 and under, doubles; and youth doubles.

There is an entry fee: $2.50 for singles; $5 doubles team; men, women over 35 singles - $6; mixed doubles and doubles over 35 - $12 per team.

The tennis courts are located behind the Inkster Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt Road, a quarter-mile north of Michigan Avenue.

Prospective players who need additional information may telephone 728-7530 for answers to their questions.

Football schedules, please

It's time to prepare for the 1990 high school football season. In order for the sports staff at the Associated Newspapers to plan for its annual Prep Football Preview, which will appear in early September, writers will need fall schedules, set up interview times and meet with coaches and players.

However, writers will need those fall schedules. Area athletic directors are urged to mail (or drop off) the schedules at the ANP offices, 35540 Michigan Avenue, Wayne, as soon as possible.

Also, please include the telephone numbers of all coaches on the schedules.

For further information, please contact staff writer Tom Mooradian at 729-4000.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

1990 SIDEWALK REPAIR PROGRAM

Sealed proposals will be received by the City of Belleville until 5:00 pm on August 6, 1990 at the Belleville City Hall, 6 Main Street, Belleville, MI. Proposals will be opened and read at the City Council Meeting of August 6, 1990 at 7:30 pm.

The City of Belleville seeks bids for the following:

The removal and replacement of approximately 4000 sq. ft. of 4" sidewalk and other related items of work within the City of Belleville.

Contract documents may be examined at Belleville City Hall, 6 Main Street, Belleville, MI. Copies for bidding purposes may be obtained at the City Hall, starting on July 17, 1990. The fees for copies are free if picked up or $2.00 if mailed.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of 5% of the proposal, payable to the City of Belleville, as security for the acceptance of the contract. A bid bond in the Michigan standard form, approved by an approved surety company, may be furnished in lieu of a check.

No bidder may withdraw bid within ninety days after the opening thereof. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive irregularities in the bids.

The City of Belleville is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Address all bids to the City Manager in a sealed envelope clearly marked "Sidewalk Repair Program".

Sumpter car show will be 'just for fun'

By BARBARA GOFFMAN
ANP Special Writer

An unusual type of car show—minus judging, competition and entry fees—is slated for the Sumpter Country Fest.

The "Just for Fun" car show will be conducted from noon until 5 p.m. July 22 at the Sumpter Community Center festival grounds, at the corner of Dunn and Sumpter roads in Belleville.

Area residents are invited to bring their "street rods, antique, classic and muscle cars" for display at the site. Although there will be no competition for prizes, door prizes will be awarded, according to Don Rochon, a member of the Sumpter County Fest committee.

Information about this auto show is available by calling 699-5275 or 461-6201.

Citizens who would rather destroy their cars than show them off can participate in the U.S.A. Demolition Derby, to be staged 7 p.m. the same day at the festival.

"It's very hard for motorsports fans to relate to something made out of carbon fiber, looking more like a spaceship than a car and costing millions of dollars," Elwood "Sonny" Hall, the director of the Derby, said.

Therefore, he makes sure that at any U.S.A.-sanctioned event, the participating autos are almost identical to the spectators' cars sitting in the parking lot.

"We deal with automotive emotions. Anyone who has been cut off on a freeway exit or a shopping mall parking space can identify with and appreciate a U.S.A. Demolition Derby," he said.

It's very hard for motorsports fans to relate to something made out of carbon fiber, looking more like a spaceship than a car and costing millions of dollars.

Hall has been heading these mass car destruction events for more than a dozen seasons.

Those interested in receiving more information on participating in, or just watching, the event should call the Sumpter Township office at 461-6201.

Anti-theft devices are introduced

Drivers interested in protecting their vehicles have two new electronic devices on their side.

Both devices emit signals that allow law enforcement officials

Ford Motor Company engineers are conducting body and chassis structural durability tests using the first truck road simulator equipment to track a stolen vehicle.

The $595 LoJack system has been offered by car dealerships since spring. The $995 Intercept system was just introduced.

In May the LoJack system had its first test in Michigan. A 1989 Chrysler LeBaron was recovered 62 minutes after it was reported stolen. The tracking system gave the thieves only time to strip the car of its wheels before the police arrived at the scene.

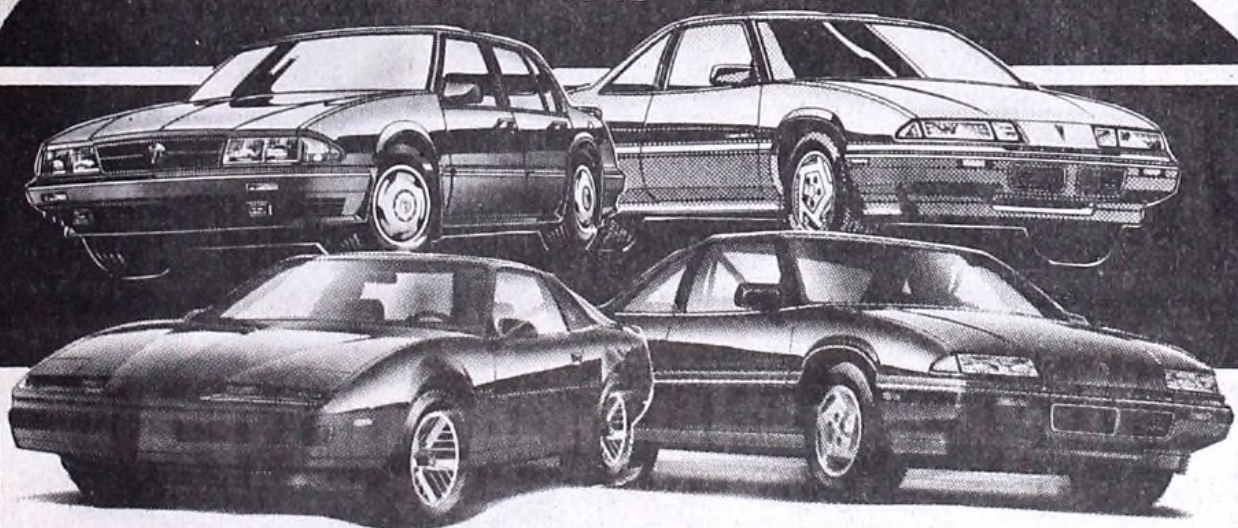

William Liddane, coordinator of Michigan's Help Eliminate Auto Thefts program, welcomed the new weapons in the battle against car thieves.

HEAT is the state tip-reward auto theft hotline: 1-800-242-HEAT. The office is staffed between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The HEAT-line is monitored by the Michigan State Police Criminal Investigation Section in Livonia, which directs tip information to the appropriate agency in the state.

Suicide by fudge

There I was, innocently hiding behind the dessert showcase in the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island when it happened. Minding my own business, not bothering a soul, I happened to glance away from the wonderful desserts revolving in the mirrored showcase for just an instant and my eye fell on this fat woman across the room.

Actually, what really astounded me was that this obese creature was wearing clothes identical to mine and even resembled me a bit...although she was obviously much older and frumpier than myself. Amazingly enough, she too, was stuffing brownie pie into her face.

You got it. That stupid decorator had mirrors installed in the tea room. Think about it.

That disgusting sight certainly ended my good time abruptly. The millisecond my feeble little brain deduced that the old fat woman wearing my clothes was me (the chocolate icing on my mouth was a dead give away to myself), I hit the high road out of there. My determination to control my lustful appetite lasted almost until dinner, but someone left this box of fudge in my room, and, well, it was an ugly situation.

Next week, it's back to lettuce, tuna and low calorie everything. I'd start sooner, but the fat woman brought all this damn fudge back, and it would be rude not to help her eat it.

Here's how I got into this mess.

Grand Hotel brownie pie

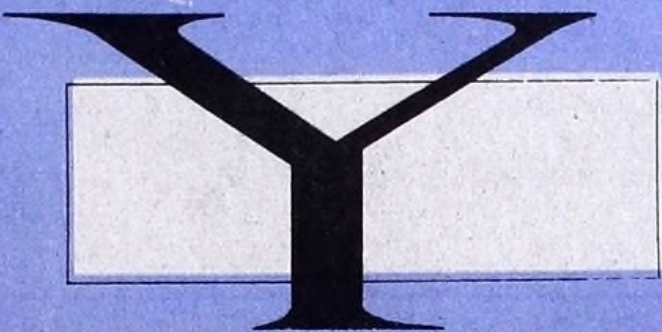

Chocolate crust:
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons cold, unsalted butter, cut into 12 pieces
3 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa powder
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 to 3 tablespoons ice water

Preheat the oven to 325 degrees. In a mixing bowl, blend together the flour, sugar and salt. Add the butter and blend until crumbly. Lightly stir in the cocoa and vanilla extract. Using a fork to toss and mix, add just enough of the ice water to make a dough that holds together when pressed between your fingers. Gather the dough into a ball and set aside. Lightly coat a 9-inch pie pan with soft butter. Press the dough evenly into the pan to form a smooth crust. Trim the edges evenly and chill the crust while preparing the filling.

Filling:
4 ounces unsweetened chocolate
1/4 pound unsalted butter
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2/3 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup walnuts, coarsely chopped

Melt the chocolate and butter together in a microwave or small, heavy saucepan over low heat. Stir to blend and allow to cool slightly. In a mixing bowl, beat the eggs until fluffy, about 2 minutes. Gradually beat in the sugar. Beat in the salt, 1 vanilla and the melted chocolate mixture. Sift the flour with the baking powder and gently mix the dry ingredients into the chocolate mixture, stirring by hand. Do not overmix. Stir in the chopped nuts. Pour the filling into the chocolate crust. Bake the pie in the center of the oven for 20 minutes or until the edges of the filling are set while the center is still slightly moist. Cool on a rack. Serve topped with a generous dollop of sweetened whipped cream.

Fit to be Canned

By MARY SHIRODA
ANP Special Writer

Yes, Christmas is still months away, but now is the time to "put up" the fruits and vegetables that are in season that may be enjoyed at Christmas dinner and during the rest of the winter.

Green beans, pickles, peppers, beets and summer squash are all available at produce stands. Fruits such as blueberries, cherries, raspberries, apricots and nectarines are also at or nearing their peak. All may be frozen or canned.

Prices on produce vary from day to day, but there are bargains to be had. For instance, at Joe Randazzo's Fruit and Vegetable Market shoppers can find extra good deals on produce that has started to go soft or spotted, but is fine for canning or freezing.

"We're grading through our fruit and vegetables all day," said Dave Bergamo, Randazzo's son-in-law. In the back of the store are "dollar" tables. Shoppers will find produce in 20- to 30-pound cases selling for $1.

Preserving food doesn't have to be the complicated task it was in grandmother's day, but there are safety precautions that must be observed.

Marie Drongowski of the home economics department of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Program recommends updating canning books and materials every two years.

"Before you could do jams and jellies with paraffin," she said. "Now you need to use a regular canning jar. You should no longer make grandma's recipes the way she made them."

Drongowski said all non-acid food should always be prepared in a pressure cooker. All acid foods may be water bathed - prepared according to updated directions and then boiled in a canning pot.

"The water should cover the jars being canned," she said.

Tomatoes, soon to be in season, must be hot-packed. It is no longer safe to cold-pack them.

"The acidity level of tomatoes has dropped in the past few years" she said, due to the increasing number of strains. When freezing produce, the quickest and easiest way to preserve food, Drongowski said one must be careful to prepare food properly so as to avoid freezer burn - a dry, tough area with a grayish color.

All vegetables need to be blanched (briefly boiled) between 2 to 10 minutes before freezing, then plunged immediately into ice water to stop the cooking process. Drongowski recommends drying the vegetables on cloth or paper towels before placing them in freezer bags or containers.

"Water left on the vegetables will cause the freezer burn," she warned.

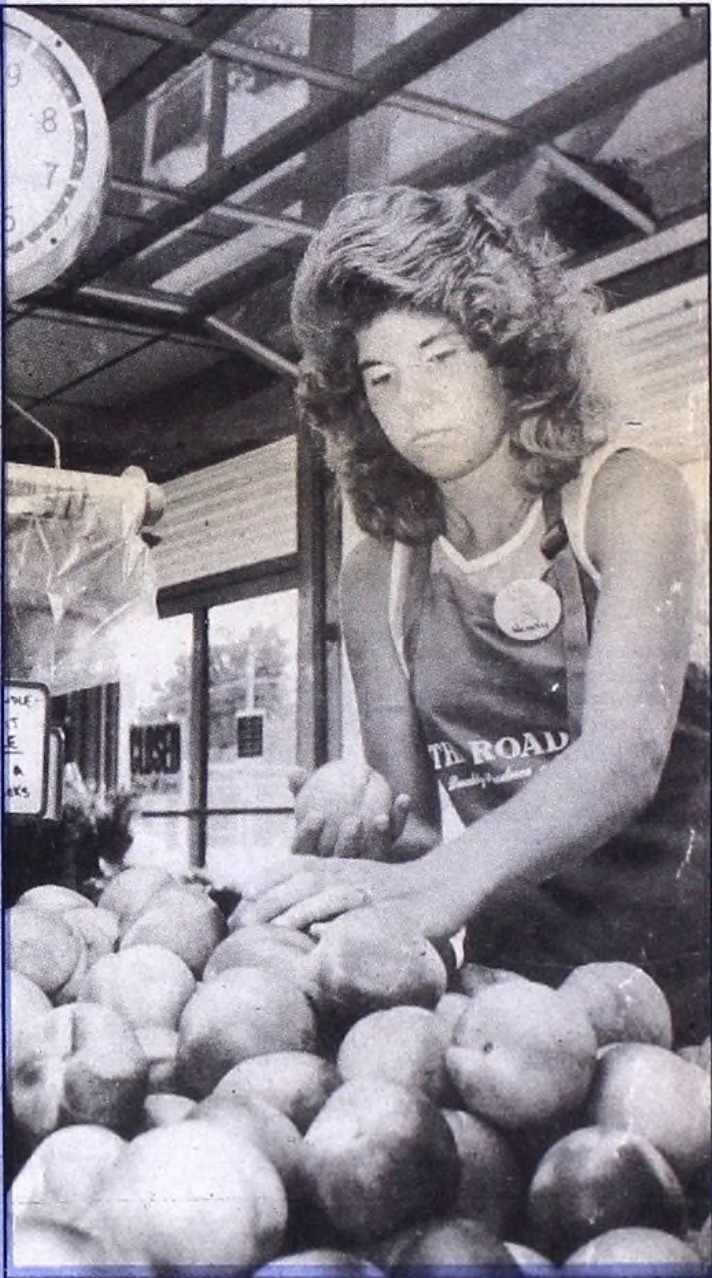

Vegetables that have a low water content, such as green beans and corn, best retain their original condition when frozen. High-water content vegetables like celery and zucchini may be frozen for use in soups, sauces or casseroles.

Containers used for freezing should be vapor and moisture resistant. Avoid using cottage cheese containers or anything that does not have a good seal.

Drongowski suggests that you freeze containers or bags of fruit or vegetables "a few at a time. And don't pile things one on top of the other until they're completely frozen."

Time spent preserving foods safely will be worth the reward in the winter when you pop open that bag of bright green beans or lift off the lid from a jar of red raspberry jam.

Oakwood is Advanced Medicine

Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) is a breakthrough diagnostic tool being used routinely at Oakwood Hospital today. MRI allows physicians to "see" into the body without x-rays, sound waves or surgery. As the name implies, Magnetic Resonance Imaging uses a strong magnetic field to produce multi-dimensional images of the inner structure of the body. The patient experiences no pain.

Oakwood provides patients access to MRI as well as the more traditional diagnostic procedures available at your physicians office or local Oakwood facility. MRI can reveal disorders much earlier in the course of a disease. In many cases, this early detection results in simpler and more effective treatment.

Oakwood Health Services is one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with five hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians in every major health care specialty and subspecialty. Oakwood will serve more than half a million patients this year.
